LEONARDO DA VINCI

LEONARDO DA VINCI (1452 – 1519) worked as an architect, artist, mathematician and scientist. The young Leonardo liked school. He was a good musician, but he hated Latin. In 1466, his family moved to Florence and Leonardo finished school. In 1482, he started to work for the Duke of Milan. He also designed buildings and studied mathematics. His drawing of the Anatomy of Man shows he was a great biologist. He also worked as a military engineer. In 1502, he returned to Florence and painted the Mona Lisa. He carried this painting with him when he traveled in Rome and continued his scientific experiments. He died in France in 1519
